Summer is in full swing at the Sugarwood pool! The water is full of smiling Stingrays every weekday morning as they work hard to perfect strokes and increase strength and speed. Several Little Rays have worked their way up from the beginner bunch into the official 8 & Under practice group, and lots of the Stingrays have shaved precious seconds off their previous best times.

But the Rays are about more than swimming and performance. On any given Friday you can find them around the pool and in the pavilion area enjoying a little more laid-back time, putting the SUMMER into summer swimming. Pancake day is a favorite of many Stingrays, with popsicle day and the soda toss coming close behind.

Did you know the team invades Sonic after every meet, win or lose? There is definitely more to our neighborhood swim team than work, work, work. But they do work very hard in between the fun times, and you can see this displayed at the last home meet of the season on July 12. This also happens to be Senior Night in which resident swimmer Nicole Ceausu will take her final home lap as a Sugarwood Stingray after many season. That night the Rays will welcome the Gulf Park Blue Sharks to the Ray pool at 5:30. Come cheer for your Stingrays!

July also sees the Rays traveling to the two multi-team meets of the season. The 16th is the Smoky Mountain Invitational at Springbrook pool in Alcoa, and the 29th-30th is the annual Greater Knoxville Area Interclub Swimming Association (GKAISA) city-wide meet.

See you at the pool!
Go Stingrays!
