How to Recognize a Rockin' RAY in MAY

You MAY be a StingRAY in MAY if...

1. ...you think of swimming every time you pass Sonic.
2. ...you look expectantly at the pool area every time you go by.
3. ...you are thinking more about the Sugarwood pool than schoolwork.
4. ...you are meeting more new friends now that school is ending than you did when school was beginning last August.
5. ...you already know what you'll be doing every Thursday evening this summer.
6. ...you have to explain the concept of a "Dry Land Practice" to your non-swimmer friends.
7. ...you find yourself trying to explain to your friends how SWSR can be so much more fun than any other team.
8. ...you ask Mr. Carbaugh if there may still be room on the team for those friends who see your excitement and want to join.
9. ...you're putting away all your winter clothes except your Stingray hoodie which you'll wear after every meet despite the fact that it was nearly a hundred degrees that day.
10. ...while putting away pens and pencils in anticipation of the break from schoolwork, you keep the Sharpie markers out, anticipating your summer swim meet StingRAY 'stache!
